Cultural Center Expenses Shock City Councilmen

The operation of a municipal cultural and community center is going to be costly the city councilmen learned last night when they looked at the preliminary budget requests for municipal structures.

Admitting that any estimate of what it will cost to operate Sunset School for this purpose after July 1 is "a shot in the dark" based largely on Carmel Unified School District figures for last year, Mayor Herbert Blanks added that $6,840 for utilities was "a stunner." He also appeared shocked at the $30,000 estimate to provide adequate stage lighting in the auditorium.

Not much could be done with the Sunset figures by the council last night as some of them depend on decisions that will be made at the council meeting on Wednesday of next week. These are whether or not the council will reconsider its decision to move the city hall into the north wing of the school, also action on the Sunset Commission's recommendation that the north playfield be paved for a public parking lot. Should the council approve the latter, last night's figures showed that this will cost $1,830.

The employment of two custodians, estimated by City Clerk Hugh Bayless, was set at $10,911. Councilman Gunnar Norberg protested that this sum would include janitorial service for tenants. "I pay rent and I get no janitorial work," he said and added that it was not "incumbent on the municipality" to provide such service to lessees. The Mayor admitted that this matter should be further studied.

Another Sunset budget request was $1,000 for a room by room fire hazard study, similar to the $900 study already made on the auditorium.

Concerning the $6,840 estimate for utilities for a year, Mr. Norberg referred to a report which he gave the council this spring and which has been sent to the Sunset Commission. This report proposed that the county be asked to pay the city $3,000 for housing Monterey County Symphony Orchestra rehearsals and performances. Last night Mr. Norberg urged immediate action by the Air pollution is causing agricultural losses in California totalling $132 million annually, Dr. Ray C. Thompson, a scientist at the University of California at Riverside's air pollution research center recently told the Council of California Growers, according to a report sent to the Pine Cone by the growers' group.

Another statistic presented to the growers by Dr. Thompson was that, among the 28 counties in California which show evidence of smog damage to crops, Monterey County has the least losses from this cause.

This proves that Monterey County already has a smog condition. Should the Humble Oil Company be permitted to open a refinery at Moss Landing, this incidence would increase, also, once a precedent is established by allowing one refinery, the establishment of others will be much harder to control.

The Carmel city council and planning commission are urging the county to consider carefully allowing this new industry to come to Moss Landing.

Particularly, they are asking for a county ordinance with the strictest air pollution controls possible, whether or not Humble Oil is allowed to build a refinery at Moss Landing.

The Carmel Citizens Committee, the Carmel Motel Association and the Carmel Business Association are protesting the refinery. Carmel members of the Sierra Club are working to prevent the introduction of a refinery on the coast of this county.

Earl Moser of Carmel, a former oil company executive, is the co-chairman, with Charles Kramer of Pebble Beach, of the Committee for Clean Air which is circulating petitions opposing the granting of a special permit to Humble Oil by the county planning commission. Already over 5,000 persons have signed these petitions. More signatures are needed.

Councilman Gunnar Norberg is spearheading Carmel's opposition to the refinery. He has appeared at two county planning commission hearings on the matter and plans to represent the city at the third hearing on July 28 at 8 p.m. in the Salinas city council.

Arts And Crafts Exhibit

The public is invited to a showing of the work of this year's arts and crafts classes of the Carmel Adult School on Sunday from 2-5 p.m. at Sunset School.

The main exhibit will be in the gymnasium. A jury will make awards for displays in this room. Other exhibits will be shown in the cafeteria and various rooms and bungalows on the campus. There will also be art-in-action displays both indoors and outdoors during the afternoon. Hostesses will supply maps and information as well as refreshment.

The event will include a 9 p.m. special benefit showing at the cinema of Martin Ranshoff's "The Sandpiper" starring Elizabeth Taylor, Richard Burton and Eva Marie Saint. This will be followed by a champagne supper. The Circle Theatre will be transformed into a discotheque for the occasion.

The decorating committee will completely transform the theatre for the party with a variety of bird silhouettes, mobiles and sculpture to be carried out in a red, pink and white color scheme. Flowers in the same shades will be interspersed with masses of greens. The cinema's usual entrance will be blocked off for tomorrow evening's festivities and a red carpeted walkway will lead guests to the foyer's north entrance.

Mrs. George Fletcher and Mrs. James W. Moore are in charge of supper arrangements. Special

You're about to give up and your

Your whole body complains
And your head shrieks with pains;
Just consider how bad a sick elephant feels.
We all have our troubles
And bursting of bubbles,
Take, for instance, you're head of a

Is your mind filled with doubt?
Stuck your neck too far out?
Better stop and give thanks you weren't born a giraffe.
So whatever the deed,

Of a kind helping hand in a like

Gertrude Rendtorff Will Retire After 34 Years As MUHS 'Friendly Dragon'

BY JANE VIAL

In the past 34 years, there has been no doubt in the minds of Monterey High School students concerning what Gertrude Rendtorff approved and what she did NOT approve. She has inspired near-terror and an enormous amount of affection and gratitude, largely because no student has ever been just a statistic to Monterey's dean of girls, who will retire at the end of this term. Were she to harken to the pleas of the junior class, to "graduate with them" the next junior class might also prevail, and so on ad infinitum, until there would be no need for retirement.

How many troubled adolescents have been "salvaged" through Miss Rendtorff's compassionate understanding and wise guidance probably will never be known, for she has profound respect for the individual's worth and his privacy. Parents, juvenile authorities, and many a student know of her unswerving dedication to her work.

How many youngsters have awakened to interest in learning, a sense of social responsibility and the importance of self-discipline through her efforts may also never be known, for she hates publicity. But it is doubtful that two former students of the school will ever meet without mention of "Gertie."

Some say the late Professor Karl Rendtorff of Stanford and his wife built their house in Carmel in 1910; their daughter says it was 1913. Whichever, Gertrude spent the summers here as a child and young woman and has vivid, intimate memories of the community. After receiving her master's degree at Stanford University, from which she graduated in 1929, she traveled in Europe—her father

CAMP QUIEN SABE

Camp Quien Sabe, a wilderness camp for young people, will open this month for the fourth consecutive year at its wooded, fog-free, secluded location, high above Palo Colorado Canyon. The camp, an activity of the City of Monterey's recreation department, is available to girls and boys from 9 to 15 years old, and is designed to give a well-rounded, outdoor, camping-living experience in a true wilderness environment. Arts and crafts, nature study, nature walks, swimming, cook-outs and hiking are some of the activities offered—all of which will be supervised by a qualified core of senior high school and college students who will serve as counselors.

Director of Camp Quien Sabe is Max Mobley, assistant recreation director for Monterey. Mr. Mobley came to his present position five years ago after graduating from San Jose State College with a degree in "recreation." He is looking forward to the summer wilderness camp "with much enthusiasm" and with a sincere desire to show boys and girls how to enjoy and appreciate the beauty and wonder of the out-of-doors. In anticipating this summer's program, Mr. Mobley is mindful and appreciative of the splendid work done by his predecessor, Duke Thayer, who directed the camp since its inception. Thayer, a former Monterey director of recreation is presently associated with Pacific Grove High School. He and Mrs. Thayer, a teacher at Fremont Junior High School, have both been closely identified with outdoor and recreational activities since childhood. The Thayers will have a period of study and vacation in Arizona this summer.

Camp Quien Sabe opens June 21 and will close July 9. Camp sessions operate Monday through Friday and are limited to 50 campers per session. The charge is $22 a session for Monterey residents and $24 for non-residents. Further information may be obtained from City of Monterey recreation department (375-8121).

Above, Henry Meade Williams is putting books which he has donated to the Pioneer House Book Fair into his station wagon to be delivered to Casa Estrada in Monterey where the fair will be held tomorrow, Saturday and Sunday from 11 a.m. - 6 p.m. These books are all new books from the shelves of Mr. Williams's Carmel store. Other volumes offered for sale at the Book Fair will be first editions and similar collectors' items as well as a wide range of books, both hard and paperbacks, covering a variety of reading tastes. All proceeds of the Book Fair will be used to support the program of Pioneer House, a Seaside nur-

Art News . . .

The Coast Gallery's show of serigraphs by Dorothy Bowman will open Saturday with a benefit reception for the Monterey County Symphony from 3 to 8 p.m.

Central theme of the show will be sandpipers to tie in with the symphony's "Sandpiper" benefit the preceding evening. LaVerne Allen's Coast Gallery is featured in Martin Ransohoff's film which stars Elizabeth Taylor, Richard Burton and Eva Marie Saint.

Miss Bowman, who is the recipient of numerous awards, has permanent collections on display at a number of museums throughout this country as well as at the Victoria and Albert Museum, London; Bibliothèque, Paris, and the São Paulo Museum, Brazil. The show will continue at the Coast Gallery through June with a percentage of the proceeds going to aid the symphony.

Paintings by Danny Garcia may be viewed during the month of June in Aptos in the Condominium Beach Homes at Rio Del Mar.

Visitors to Carmel each year have spread the works of Garcia across the country. It is interesting to note he was born in Monterey and grew up amid the bustle and life of the waterfront. For five years he worked as a lab assistant for Ed Ricketts, the true life character of "Doc" in John Steinbeck's novel "Cannery Row." The color and drama of sailboats, fishing and the activity of the waterfront itself still are much in evidence as a source of inspiration for Garcia's work.

Mr. Garcia is the artist-owner of the Carmel Museum of Modern Art, which is located on Sixth between Dolores and San Carlos Streets in Carmel. Other paintings may be viewed in all of the three showrooms in the Swanston Building between Ocean and Sixth in Carmel.

A four-day workshop in watercolors, sponsored by the Peninsula Chapter of the American Federation of Arts and conducted by noted artist N. Eric Oback will be held on the mornings of June 8, 9, 10 and 11.

An associate professor of art at San Jose State College, Mr. Oback is a well known watercolorist who works in a variety of styles. The first session will be a three-hour lecture-demonstration in which he will present many different ideas and directions and the following three sessions will be "on the spot" workshops with demonstrations, critiques and general assistance.

MARKET MEMOS

by William H. Godwin, Jr. of Dean Witter & Co.

The market experienced a comparatively sharp break this past week. Doubts about the technical position of the market, which has been laboring under the cloud of a divergent rail trend, were further compounded by a spate of unsettling comments by Gardner Ackley and Reserve Board Chairman Martin concerning the economy.

In the most recent sessions, support was given to selected units in the airline, copper, electronics, defense, telephone and rubber sections, but interest in these areas was not sufficient to offset the decline.

The telephone section has held better than most, with American Telephone & Telegraph and General Telephone & Electronics the leading issues. General Telephone & Electronics has corrected its previous exploitation following publicity given to its work in color TV. At current levels, the issue represents a better value.

In addition to record replacement tire demand, U.S. Rubber is being sustained by progress of its chemical division. Relative to anticipated earnings, the issue is moderately appraised and is a split candidate.

In fact of the recent market drop, we feel that the investor should give attention primarily to those stocks which are currently selling at more moderate levels in relation to present and prospective results.

Formation concerning the workshop may inquire at AFA Headquarters 624-2918.

Iris Alberto of Carmel will display her abstract oil paintings at Carmel Foundation Town House during the month of June. The exhibition will be open from 10 a.m. - 5 p.m., Monday through Friday. All interested persons are invited to see this show. Town House is situated on the east side of Lincoln Street south of Eighth Avenue.

Charlotte Townsend Wed

White gladioli and chrysanthemums arranged with pine boughs formed an altar on the council dais in city hall on Saturday night when Charlotte Townsend became the bride of Squire Hurst in a ceremony performed by the Reverend Karel Vit. Baroque music was played on the cello and viola by Mr. and Mrs. Ken Dobel as guests were escorted to their seats. White candles in the six tall branched candelabra which framed the altar were lit just before the wedding party entered.

The bride was preceded up the aisle by two bridesmaids, Melissa Taylor of Pebble Beach and Bernice Mello of Carmel, also her matron of honor, Mrs. Franklin Fontes of San Francisco. They wore floor-length shantung frocks of similar design, the bridesmaids' a deeper hue of pink than that of the matron of honor, and they carried crescent bouquets of garnet and pink roses.

The bride was given in marriage by Admiral C. W. Fisher (USN Ret.). She wore an ankle-length, simply styled gown of white silk matelasse and an antique Spanish lace veil. White roses were mingled with other flowers in her nosegay bouquet.

Dr. Bradford Summers of San Francisco was the bridegroom's best man. Franz Zuber of Berkeley and Carmel City Clerk Hugh Bayless were the ushers.

Following the ceremony, the wedding party was driven to the reception in the patio of Crichton House by Al Hood in his 1909 Pierce Arrow stage. The bride and her husband greeted the guests beside the pool and fountain in which flowers floated. Silver candelabra adorned the tables covered with pink cloths in two glass kiosks. The ring-shaped wedding cake decorated with the initials of the bridal couple and surrounded by pink roses was placed in one kiosk. Champagne was served from the other.

The bride and bridegroom danced to Marty Artellian's accordion music, then cut the cake and were toasted by the guests before leaving on their honeymoon which will be a leisurely drive through the Rockies to Chicago where they will live at 20 East Scott Street.

Mrs. Hurst is the daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. Frank Townsend of Carmel. Raised here, she attended Sunset and Douglas schools, Stanford, Zurich and Heidelberg universities. She served on the Harrison Memorial Library Board and the executive board of the Carmel Citizens Committee and is a member of the Sierra Club, American Federation of Arts, American Library Association and the American Association of University Women. She also is affiliated with various skiing, sports car and yachting groups in the United States and abroad.

Her husband is the son of the late Squire Hurst of Fairfield, Connecticut, and Mrs. N. W. Gregory of Charlestown, New Hampshire. His son Gregory, is a student at St. John's Military Academy in Wisconsin, and his daughter, Karen, who was present at the wedding, attends Mills College.

He was a member of Sigma Chi fraternity at De Pauw University and a naval aviator during World War II. He is now associated with the sales department of R. R. Donnelley and Sons.

Out of town guests at the marriage included the bride's aunt and uncle, Mr. and Mrs. F. C. Henderson of Seattle, Washington, and friends from Newport Beach, Hawaii, Menlo Park and San Francisco.

Kate Williams Home

After two years in Phoenix, Arizona, during which she was employed as private secretary to an executive in that city, Kate Williams has returned to Carmel Valley for an indefinite stay with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Leonard S. Williams. Sometime during the summer, Kate is planning a trip to Alaska.

Verde Valley Graduate

Greg Dahl, son of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur L. Dahl of Pebble Beach, will graduate June 13 from Verde Valley School, where he has been student body president for the past year. Greg, who also attended Stevenson School, has been accepted for enrollment at Harvard University and will major in physics there.

The Dahls and their other son, Roger, will be in Sedona, Arizona for the commencement ceremonies at Verde Valley. Roger, a graduate of Verde Valley last year, attends Lewis and Clark College in Portland, Oregon.

Trophy For Young Sportsman

Evan Wythe, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Don Wythe of Pebble Beach, has been awarded the Silver Eagle Trophy as a member of the Sugar Bowl Ski Team. Evan, who is also the youngest Mercury skipper of the Stillwater Yacht Club, has spent all his recent vacations training with the Sugar Bowl team and, from all reports, shows promise of becoming an outstanding skier. He is 11 years old.

Nietos Change Dwellings

Mr. and Mrs. August Nieto have moved into their lovely new home bordering the golf course at the Carmel Valley Golf and Country Club. According to Mrs. Nieto, although there are still myriad things to be done, they are already enjoying the new location, especially the sunshine.

A holiday visitor at their home last weekend was Mr. Nieto's sister, Mrs. Charles Worth of Fresno, who was here officially to see the Nietos' two-month-old granddaughter, Jennifer McCormack, and to visit other relatives in the area.

A completely unplanned housewarming took place one afternoon on the holiday weekend, when golf playing cronies from Carmel dropped in and stayed for cocktails and a tour of the new house.

Educators To Be Honored

Two $300 scholarships will be presented to graduating seniors of the Monterey and Seaside High Schools by the Monterey City Educators Association in the names of all retiring teachers of the Monterey school system.

Included in the various events in honor of retiring personnel will be a tea on Sunday afternoon at the Board of Education Building in Monterey. The function is sponsored by the Monterey City Educators Association and co-sponsored by Monterey Public Schools' Administration and the Parent-Teacher Association units of schools from which faculty members are retiring.

Carmel residents to be honored are Miss Gertrude Rendorff, dean of girls at Monterey High School, and Antone AraBia, biological science instructor at the high school.

TO HONOR GOVERNOR

The California State Democratic Committee has issued invitations for a cocktail-buffet reception in honor of Governor Edmund Brown on Saturday, 6:30-8:30 o'clock, in the Fiesta Room of the Casa Munras in Monterey.

California's Governor is coming to the Peninsula earlier in the day to attend the Monterey History and Art Association Merienda.

Julie Campbell, daughter of Judge and Mrs. Gordon Campbell of Carmel, will be this year's "La Favorita" at the merienda, Monterey's birthday celebration.

Reasons To Be Proud

Mr. and Mrs. Stephen B. Kahn of Carmel Point have good reason to be proud of the scholastic achievements of their children. David Goldschmidt, Mrs. Kahn's son, graduated last Saturday from Reed College with a National Science Foundation fellowship and as a member of Phi Beta Kappa. David will again spend the summer working at Data Dynamics, then enroll at the University of Chicago for graduate work in mathematics.

The Kahns' daughter, Karen, will graduate from Verde Valley School in Arizona on June 13 with top honors. She follows in the footsteps of her brother, Bob, who is now a sophomore at Reed, the college which she, also, will attend.

The entire family will travel to Sedona, Arizona, to be present for the graduation ceremonies at Verde Valley.

Reed College Graduate

Virginia Davis of Carmel was among 146 graduating seniors who received their bachelor of arts degrees at Reed College's commencement ceremonies on May 23.

Class Reunion In Seattle

Mrs. Grace Fontes and her sister, Miss Doris Brand, have just returned from a ten-day motor trip to the Olympic Peninsula and Seattle, where Mrs. Fontes attended a re-union of her high school class. During their trip they were also guests of another sister in Hoodspit, Washington.

Welcomes New Nephew

Mrs. Lorilott Clark returned last week from Santa Barbara, where she was a visitor at the home of her sister and brother-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Rea. She arrived in time to help them welcome their first son, Paul Eric, who was born on May 22. The new baby is the brother of Marianne, seven, who is a native Carmelite, and Andrea, three.

Both Mr. and Mrs. Rea (she is the former Julianne Huldschinsky) have numerous friends in Carmel, where their marriage took place at Carmel Mission Basilica a number of years ago.

Traditional Birthday Fete

For the 15th birthday of Susan K. Ramsey, her grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Wick Parsons, introduced her to a Carmel tradition with a special celebration at the Mission Ranch on Monday evening. The event, a surprise dinner, marked her first birthday on the Monterey Peninsula. Susan was escorted to the Ranch by her elder brother, Terry, under the impression that the evening was to be a two-some. There she was greeted by her parents, Mr. and Mrs. LeRoy Ramsey, and her grandparents. A glittering birthday cake, gifts and congratulations climaxed the dinner party.

The Ramsey family moved from Fort Worth, Texas, last Fall and are now residents of Pacific Grove. Susan is a student at Carmel Junior High School.

Luncheon At Woman's Club

A potluck luncheon will precede the annual business meeting of the Carmel Woman's Club on Monday at 12:30 p.m. Reports will be read and the new officers for the coming year will be introduced. Members of the nominating committee for the new board are Mrs. Sinclair McClellan, chairman, Mrs. A. F. Svantesson, Mrs. Lawrence H. Lyon, Mrs. E. H. Ewig and Mrs. Ethel Gilleland.

For the first time since the club was organized 40 years ago, the maximum membership allowed, 350, was reached last fall.

Members who wish may remain to play cards after the meeting.

Humor Combats Weather

Capricious clouds over the High Sierra damped and nearly ruined the Yosemite camping trip for Neil Smith's Sunset sixth graders and their adult chaperones, who, looking forward to a balmy spring weekend in the valley, ignored including such sissy necessities as tents. In the downpour that greeted the group's arrival, they and every other hopeful camper besieged Camp Curry for the remaining shelter available. Good humor prevailed to the last man and child, crowded together finally in rather damp quarters.

Fortunately, the storm passed during the night, and the following day Mr. Smith led his students on the rugged hike to Vernal and Nevada falls, which they found truly spectacular. Camp was established on the valley floor that night and the youngsters were able to return home with fine memories of sleeping and eating under the stars.

Assisting Mr. Smith with his annual present to his graduating sixth graders were Mr. and Mrs. Frederic "Buzz" Rainer, Mr. and Mrs. Kip Stewart, Mrs. Norma Miller, John Ginn, Don Criley and William K. Stewart.

Golden Wedding Anniversary

Well-wishers, including relatives and friends, gathered last night at the Shutters restaurant in Monterey for a dinner in honor of Mr. and Mrs. Elmer J. Windhorst of Carmel, whose wedding took place in Indianapolis, Indiana, fifty years ago yesterday.

Mr. and Mrs. Windhorst were residents of San Francisco between 1930 and 1958, then they moved to Carmel.

The couple has two sons, Robert G. Windhorst of Pacifica and Donald J. Windhorst of Montebello, and among their blessings they count three granddaughters and three grandsons.

Leslie Joins Community

Leslie Susan Fenton, who was born at Community Hospital on May 17, will probably grow up to be an "old" Carmelite, since her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Alan W. Fenton proclaim they much prefer our village to their former homes. Leslie's father, a native Californian, came to the area about four years ago as a field representative of Sterling Industries, while her mother hails from Pennsylvania.

The new baby is the granddaughter of Mrs. Louise Fenton of Los Angeles.

Chico State Graduates

Three Carmel students will be among the graduates at the 75th commencement ceremonies at Chico State College on Saturday. Jean Lucille Harrah will receive an A.B. in psychology, Brian John LaNeve a B.S. in business administration, and Paul Michael an A.B. in psychology.

Barbara and Bob Cathcart were on the Peninsula for the holiday and while driving around they went up to Paraiso Hot Springs, where they had not been for years. Owner Oscar Barrett was glad to see them and apologized for the rundown condition of the resort. "I ought to fix it up," he said, "I know that. It's plumb awful. But I'd go put a lot of money and work into the place and then a whole gang of folks would start coming up here and pretty soon, I'd just have it to do all over again."

How many of you took advantage of the pottery show at Safeway last week? There were some beautiful things shown and we bought the prettiest blue cream pitcher you ever saw. Almost got home before it broke, too.

The butchers hereabouts tell me people are crazy about those new boneless rolled turkeys. Say they could sell twice as many if they didn't have to charge so much for them. Says I, "So don't." "Have to," says they, "those de-boners are highway robbers." Hmmm, seems to me here's a good chance for some enterprising young fella to make himself a proper piece of change. Start raising them that way and cut out all the middleman business.

As we watched two equestrians being turned away from Ocean Avenue the other day, we were reminded of the late colorful personality, Alexander Victor, Vic used to ride up to the Pine Inn and tether his horse day after day. As they hauled him away in the patrol car, he would scream, "You can't do this to me! Horses preceeded cars."

We have a somewhat plump friend who has just gone on the Drinking Man's Diet. Well, to be perfectly honest with you, "plump" is carrying courtesy to the point of ridiculousness. We love this friend and we can't mention his name because he's very big (ho! ho!) in high places. He was telling us his wife really should lose some weight, too, and we said why didn't she go on the diet with him? "Oh, she wouldn't do that," he said, "not a man's diet."

And that brings to mind the inadvertent faux pas little Joey Johnson committed over the holidays. Invited to a house party, she made the mistake of showing up with a Whitman Sampler thank-you box. Mistake? Yep, her hostess had just gone on a diet.

The first of every month I look at the birthday book to see how many of our umpteen dozen cousins, nieces, nephews, children and grandchildren we have to "Do Something" about. Well, that's a break—only one this month. Good thing, too, because we'll have all we can handle celebrating those other things.

Such as what, you say? Why, such as National Barbecue Month, National Home Permanent Month, National Ragweed Control Month, June Is Dairy Month and Fight The Filthy Fly Month—just to mention a few.

Also this month has Father's Day, Children's Day, Flag Day, Graduation Days, Wedding Days and Midsummer Day.

More Stress Needed On Home Economics In Carmel Schools

"It is our feeling that, whatever a woman may do with her life, she will be making a home. She needs, first of all, enough general knowledge about this home so that she can cope with the problems involved with it easily and adeptly," stated the report presented to the Carmel Unified School District board of education by Mrs. Richard Kern and Mrs. Mary Lou Shively, members of the Citizens Advisory Committee's subcommittee on home economics.

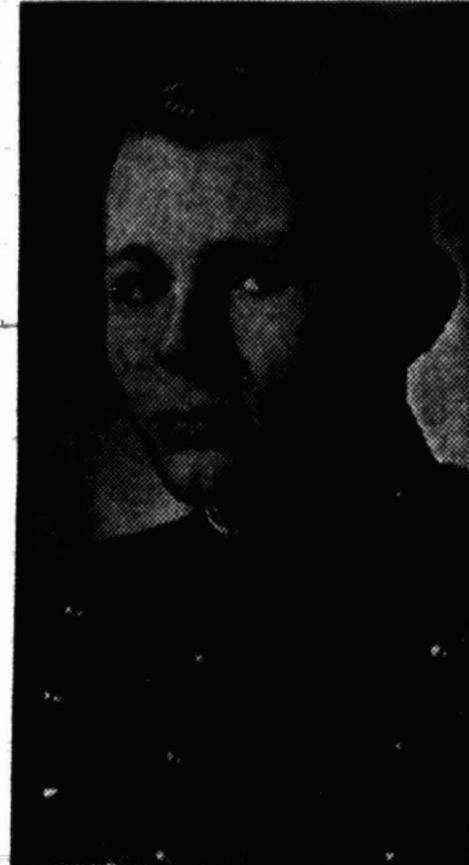

The present home economics curriculum in the district's schools does not meet the above objective, the report pointed out and recommended a core group of four one-year courses to remedy the situation. These courses were: General homemaking in the 8th grade (a required course); clothing and textiles, also foods and nutrition, electives in high school, plus family and consumer sciences, an elective in either the junior or senior year. The components of these courses were outlined in the report.

To implement the courses, the subcommittee recommended a home economics reference library in the middle and high schools; competent, well-trained instructors; modern instruction rooms and equipment at both facilities. The report suggested that a graduate home economist should be involved with the planning of home economics classrooms and the purchase of new equipment.

A criticism of current home economics instruction was, "Home economics is a professional course and should be treated as such. Too long now, it has been used as a 'dumping' ground and as a remedial course for slow learners and delinquents."

The report advised the school board that some improvement would result if home economics courses were "heavily encouraged by the school administration."

However, after surveying the existing situation and projecting

Cadet St. Elmo P. Tyner II, whose parents Col. (USA ret.) and Mrs. St. Elmo P. Tyner live here, will graduate from the U.S. Military Academy at West Point, New York on Wednesday.

Cadet Tyner will be commissioned a second lieutenant in the Infantry and will receive a bachelor of science degree.

The new lieutenant will be married to Jo Anne Edison of Scarsdale, New York, at the West Point Chapel on June 13.

Miss Edison, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Edison of Scarsdale, will graduate this month from the Tobe-Coburn School for Fashion Careers in New York City.

Following a honeymoon on Cape Cod and in California, the young couple will take up residence at Fort Benning, Georgia, where Lieutenant Tyner will report for duty.

their recommendations into the future, the two members of the subcommittee concluded that "with all the problems which have to be met in the school system, and with all the requirements the students must fulfil in other areas, the required course in home economics will probably remain where it has been placed—in the 8th grade."

Their report stressed that they sincerely believed that courses in home economics belong at the senior rather than junior high school level.

The sprightly fashion model above is Mrs. Tina Campbell, one of 12 ladies who recently modeled "Fashions for the Retired Woman" at the Carmel Foundation Town House during the organization's observance of Senior Citizens' Month. An attentive audience of over 90 people enjoyed watching the display of tastefully chosen outfits—so successful was the event, that another is being planned for the future.

Others who served as models were Mrs. Blanche Mack, Mrs. Cecilia Heller, Mrs. Ethel Lash, Mrs. Helen Mears, Mrs. Aimee Charlton, Mrs. Mary Gallas, Mrs. Cruden Walker and Mrs. Louisa Stanley.

Upgrading Of CHS Industrial Arts Program Needed

The entire industrial arts program at Carmel High School needs a complete upgrading by the administration to correct morale, status and image deficiencies, also the industrial arts program at the junior high should be coordinated with this improved program, the subcommittee of the Citizens Advisory Committee which studied industrial arts instruction in the Carmel Unified School District has recommended to the board of education.

Walter Newman was chairman of this subcommittee. Other members were Joseph McEldowney and Roy Meadows Jr.

The manual and creative benefits of a good industrial arts program are essential for complete education and produce a more perfectly balanced citizen, the subcommittee said in its written report to trustees.

Much could be done to achieve a better industrial arts program by the administration making an effort to stimulate interest in this program by giving it prestige equal to academic courses; making it attractive to average and above-average students; and devoting more attention to counseling in this field.

Students should be urged by counselors to take part in the industrial arts program. This recognition and understanding of the program would lead to counselors explaining and pointing out to parents the merits of industrial arts rather than having parents regard this field of study "as a second rate elective," the report added.

Another recommendation was that there should be a complete reorganization of the present industrial arts facilities and expenditure of necessary funds to implement a revitalized program.

"We ask a more equitable distribution of funds, time and effort of presently available assets. We can attain a representative industrial arts department without sacrificing excellence in other departments," this subcommittee's report ended.

Included in the report were specific proposals for improvements to and repair of industrial arts equipment, reorganization of shop space, safety precautions and purchasing of materials. Suggested, too, was asking experts in var-

Tennessee Williams Play Next Circle Theatre Offering

A tropical rain-forest in Mexico is the setting for Tennessee Williams's "The Night of the Iguana," which opens at the Golden Bough Circle Theatre on June 11. Williams's parable of damnation and redemption will provide an abrupt change of pace following the closing performances of "The Chalk Garden" at the Circle this weekend.

"The Night of the Iguana" was seen locally last year in a film version starring Richard Burton, Deborah Kerr and Ava Gardner. Its Broadway production scored a triumph for Bette Davis and Margaret Leighton in the opposing roles of physical and spiritual womanhood between which the central character, a debauched clergyman, oscillates as he stands on the brink of a mental collapse.

Sounding a strong note of resignation and compassion to still the fears and torments of his sensual characters, Williams has been praised by critics for reaching a new level of maturity and depth in "The Night of the Iguana."

Frederick Rider has directed the play in settings by Barbara Tripp, costumes by Jean Cahill, and further technical assistance from Charles Richmond, Sally Reichard and Sally Mitter.

Performances are scheduled for Friday, Saturday and Sunday evenings through July 25. Subscribers to the Community Theatre membership campaign, which will begin this month, will be able to see "The Night of the Iguana" as a part of the subscription season after July 1.

TOWN HOUSE EVENTS

The Monterey Peninsula chapter of A.A.U.W. will present a program of colored slides of Europe, shown by Mrs. Curtis Cureton, at the Carmel Foundation Town House on Sunday from 2 to 4 p.m.

Refreshments will be served after the program. All interested persons will be most welcome.

On Wednesday at 3 p.m., Captain William Ellis of the Carmel Police Department will give a short talk on "Things To Do When Going On Vacation." A question and answer period will follow. Tea will be served at 4 p.m. and interested persons again will be welcomed.

ious fields related to industrial arts to give practical demonstrations and lectures to students.

"This would open new applications of school theory in the business community," the subcommittee commented.

Recommended as a future objective was a more sophisticated electronics course at the senior high school and that this course should be correlated with the present junior high elementary course in this subject.

Stockholders Donate Playhouse Shares To Community Theatre

Stockholders in Carmel Playhouse, parent corporation of the Golden Bough Players, received notice last week of the redemption of their preferred shares at $26 each. The playhouse corporation will dissolve at some time following the June 15 redemption date and control of the Circle Theatre will pass to the Community Theatre of the Monterey Peninsula, a non-profit organization.

Fritz T. Wurzmann, president of the Community Theatre, announced last week that more than 50 shareholders have made a gift of their stock to the Community Theatre in order to help expand and support the group's program for the coming years. It is still not too late to contribute stock, Mr. Wurzmann said, despite the previously announced deadline of May 15. The Community Theatre legally may receive transfers of shares up to the date of redemption, June 15.

So far the stock contributions total over $6,000. Donors are being offered a year's free sponsor membership in the Community Theatre for each share given.

Membership includes free admission to each Circle Theatre offering during a one-year period, plus reduced rates on tickets to plays the Community Theatre plans to present at the Forest Theatre and Sunset School auditorium.

GARDEN CLUB ELECTS NEW OFFICERS

Mrs. Bea Testa is the new president of the Monterey Peninsula Garden Club. Other officers elected at the club's last meeting are Mrs. Norman Walker, first vice president; Mrs. Edgar Moore, second vice president; Mrs. Vivian Barton, recording secretary; Mrs. Myrtle Bohme, corresponding secretary; and Mrs. Margaret Fitzsimmons, treasurer.

Plans are progressing for the club's annual Garden Tour to be held on August 14, when the gardens of five residences in Carmel Meadows will be shown. There will be refreshments and a plant sale in the patio garden of Dr. Jack Mahoney.

Tickets, at $1.50, will be on sale at some of the main hotels and motels, and a list of gardens and maps will be available.

Small and large printing orders are quickly filled at The Pine Cone Press. Dial Carmel 624-3881.

Rug Cleaning

During three two-week periods this summer, 16 boys and girls, 6-14 years old, will have the opportunity to have a horse of their own to ride on the trails of San Jose Canyon as the young lady in the picture above is doing. She attended a session of Rancho Point Lobos Summer Camp last year.

Sue Sally Hale, director of the camp, lives in the canyon across from Bay School, "the little red schoolhouse" on Highway One. A winding road leads through yellow and blue lupin bushes and clumps of California poppies to the camp, beside the creek, which is also the home of Mrs. Hale, her husband, Alex, their son, Brook, two, and daughter, Stormy, five months old—also a St. Bernard dog called Mr. Mole, chickens, rabbits, geese, cats and 19 horses.

This will be the third year that Sue Sally has run Rancho Point Lobos Camp. Before moving here, she worked for five years at Deer Springs camp in Southern California, played on a men's polo team for seven years and taught riding to finance her college education and a B.A. degree in art. Numerous ribbons and trophies displayed in cases in her home attest to her skill as a horsewoman. Riders trained by Sue Sally were the reserve champion visiting team at last month's Pebble Beach Pony Club Show.

Children can be seen almost every afternoon around the Hales' house either putting horses over the jumps in the riding ring beside the stable or currying, feeding, watering and otherwise learning all the necessary work connected with the care of a horse. Blonde, tanned and unperturbed Sue Sally guides and encourages them as she will the campers this summer.

She will be assisted by a senior counselor who is returning again this year, and, she hopes, by another senior counselor from France who has majored in art at the Sorbonne, also six junior counselors.

The camp's program will embrace Sue Sally's two major interests, riding and art. Half of the day will be spent learning the principles of riding, including Western and English equitation, dressage and ring jumping. Each child will have complete charge of his or her own horse. The other part of each camp day will be spent in art lessons specially planned to give each camper skills to use "on a rainy day at home," Sue Sally says. Instruction in French, she hopes, will be incidental to the program, which will also include team games such as volleyball and the elements of polo playing.

Weekends, boarders will participate in other facets of the camp program. Boys will learn ranch maintenance in a work program, also the use of a hammer, saw and other tools. Girls will learn cooking, including bread-making, Sue Sally promises. Day campers will arrive at Rancho Point Lobos each morning at 9 a.m. and leave at 4 p.m. Mondays through Fridays.

Letter To Editor

REFUTES WYNKOOP

Editor,
Carmel Pine Cone

In the May 27 issue of The Carmel Pine Cone you printed a letter from Philip M. Wynkoop of Oakland wherein he said, "... upon entering the (high) school we came upon a man servicing the vending machine with dirty hands and clothes, handling unwrapped food..."

This is not even cleverly done as it has appeared on television and in a local paper that all the food is loaded by the women in the kitchen from the rear of the machines. Entry to the rear of the machines is gained through the kitchen and it would be impossible for anyone to see what they claim to have seen.

There are many things I would like to say at this point, but I am sure any comment by me would be superfluous as this is a shining example of the caliber of this whole campaign.

Very truly yours,
Kay Romm

Editor's note: The writer of the above letter is the wife of George R. Romm of Allied Vending Service who has the contract with the Carmel Unified School District to provide food for the cafeteria vending machines at Carmel High and Carmel Junior High schools.

Council Excludes Salaries From Budget Work Pending Action On City Clerk's Classification Plan

Starting at 8 p.m. last night, the city council spent four hours scrutinizing, item by item, the preliminary budget requests presented by the heads of various municipal departments.

No salaries, except those of city clerk, attorney, engineer, forester and fire marshal, were included in this scrutiny. This was because, last night, the council received the 110-page survey made by City Clerk Hugh Bayless which proposes a salary schedule based on a plan which provides that employees will be paid according to each employee's level of responsibility, duties being performed and the degree of experience and education required for the position.

This new proposal, if approved by the council, will replace the present step increases in pay based on the number of years an employee has worked for the city, regardless of qualifications mentioned above.

The new salary plan provides vacation, sick leave, retirement, health and life insurance benefits for all employees. Police Chief Clyde Klaumann, Fire Chief James Belvail, Superintendent of Public Works William Askew, Building Inspector Richard Thomas and Planning Director Floyd Adams told the council they had studied the new plan and it met with their enthusiastic approval.

Mr. Bayless's survey proposed new positions including a city administrator to replace the present "meaningless" positions of (a) secretary to boards and commissions and (b) comptroller.

This position would, most probably, be filled by the elected city clerk. However, should any future city clerk be unable to fulfil the administrative functions required for this position, the council would be able to appoint another person to this position, the report suggested. It also proposed that the city administrator be given official authority to discharge the outlined duties.

Other new positions proposed in the report were assistant city administrator, municipal finance officer and police department detective.

Councilmen will study this report before again considering the preliminary budget requests later this month.

Tentatively approved last night were funds for the operation of the following departments: Police, $15,606; fire, $21,053; city clerk, $8,080; city attorney, $10,985; city treasurer, $780; planning commission, $11,241; comptroller, $1,200; civil defense, $385.

Held until the next council study session for more information on certain items were the preliminary budget requests of the following departments: Public works, building inspector (car allowances), arts commission ($1,450 for two symphony concerts at the Forest Theater); forestry commission (functions of forester); also the general municipal functions request for codification of the municipal code ($4,500).

Municipal function expenses approved were public health (animal regulation), $1,275; elections, $1,200; city council expense fund, $1,900; special services such as audit of the city accounts, architects and insurance consultant fees, $17,750.

All the budget requests approved last night are subject to revision and possible deletion before the final 1965-66 city budget is approved and the tax rate set. No capital outlay requests were considered.

Lions Club Benefit For Little League

Carmel Little League will receive all proceeds from a special performance of "My Three Angels" on Tuesday evening, when Carmel Lions Club will sponsor a benefit dinner-theatre party at the Studio Theatre.

"Comic mayhem" characterizes the involved plot of the play, adapted from a French farce by Sam and Bella Spewack and directed by Michael Keller. A polished performance by the now-seasoned cast should be in store for the audience.

There are still some tickets available for those who wish to attend the dinner-theatre benefit for the Little League. For reservations, please phone Bryan Hickox—a Lion and an "angel" of the cast—at 624-1866.

FATHER HILL TO ADDRESS CHURCHWOMEN

The Reverend David Hill, rector of All Saints' Episcopal Church, will speak to the Churchwomen of All Saints' next Thursday in the church parish hall. Father Hill and Mrs. Hill are returning Saturday from a six weeks' tour of the Holy Land, and Father Hill will tell of their travels and experiences.

The monthly meeting of the organization will begin at 10:30 a.m. with the celebration of Holy Communion. There will be a short business meeting, and luncheon will be served at noon by the board members of the Churchwomen. For reservations, please call Mrs. Kirke Erskine at 624-1807.

BACK TO BUSINESS

Mayor Herbert Blanks and Mrs. Blanks returned to Carmel yesterday after a two weeks' absence from official duties. Part of the time was spent with Mrs. Blanks' parents, Mr. and Mrs. George Holmes, in Clarksburg, California. On the Memorial Day holiday, the Blankses visited Lake Tahoe for a get-together there with the Ted Fehrings.

STAMP CLUB MEETS MONDAY

On Monday at 8 p.m., the Monterey Peninsula Stamp Club will hold its final meeting of the spring in the faculty room of the Carmel High School.

Although the club will not meet again formally until September 20, informal meetings will be held during the summer on Monday afternoons from 2-4 o'clock in the library of All Saints' Episcopal Church.

Leora Goodwin

Funeral services were held last Wednesday in Seattle, Washington, for Mrs. Leora Macy Goodwin, the mother of Mrs. Ann Goodwin Grover of Carmel. Mrs. Goodwin, 88, died May 22 in Carmel, where she had been a resident for the past six months. She was a native of Pleasant Plain, Iowa.

She is survived by a brother, three grandchildren and seven great-grandchildren.

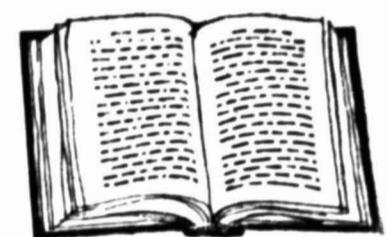

The Paul Mortuary was in charge of local arrangements.

HOUSE FIRE

Three trucks and 15 members of the Carmel Volunteer Fire Department responded to a call at 7 p.m. Tuesday at the residence of Norman Winslow on Mission Street between Alta and Vista, where they extinguished a fire in an interior wall and studs. Damage from the blaze, caused by the overheated flue of a Franklin stove, was estimated at $75.

Gertrude Rendtorff Will Retire After 34 Years As MUHS 'Friendly Dragon'

(Continued from Page One) er was a native of Germany—and taught German in the Bakersfield school system for two years. In 1931 she came to teach English at Monterey Union High School. Although the retired professor's family was a little dismayed to find their daughter teaching such non-academic subjects as health and business, as well as being a counselor, her future course apparently lay with the Monterey school. She became assistant dean of girls and shortly thereafter, dean.

Throughout her career, Miss Rendtorff has given unstintingly of her time to school activities and in particular to those of the girls. As time permitted, she has also been active in civic affairs. She is a past-president of the Monterey Peninsula Soroptimist Club. She was honored as "Woman of the Year 1964" by the Monterey-Pacific Grove Quota Club.

To adjust to thinking in terms of herself and her leisure, she admits, will be difficult. The first thing she intends to do is to relax, get reacquainted with Carmel, and tackle fixing up her house and garden. She is determined to be well away from the Peninsula when the school term starts, lest she allow herself to be importuned into "just helping out." She will continue her term on the Juvenile Justice Commission and expects to offer her services in volunteer work in other fields—but "not educational!" she says emphatically.

Finally, she looks forward to a trip to Europe, especially travel in Germany and Italy.

No one ever more deserved to enjoy retirement, and it will be nice to see our "friendly dragon," as she has been dubbed by former students, strolling the streets of the village at her leisure.

Carl Johnson

Funeral services were held yesterday morning in the Dorney and Farlinger Memorial Chapel in Monterey for Carl G. Johnson, who died Tuesday in a local hospital after a brief illness. Mr. Johnson, 81, was a native of Silverton, Oregon.

He was a graduate of Willamette University and, prior to moving to Carmel 10 months ago, had been associated with the General Paint Corporation of Portland, Oregon. He was a member of Lodge 55, F&AM, the York Rite, Alcadar Shrine, and the Elks Club.

He is survived by his wife, Lenora; a daughter, Mrs. William B. Hanson and two grandchildren, Mrs. James St. Clair and Peter L. Hanson, all of Carmel; and two brothers living in Oregon.

Monterey Lodge 217, F&AM officiated at the funeral services, and entombment will take place in Riverview Cemetery in Port-land.

In addition to the petition signatures, letters protesting the Humble Oil refinery may be sent to the Monterey County Planning Commission and Monterey County Board of Supervisors.

(Members of the county planning commission in this area are Keith Evans of Carmel and Willard Branson and Dr. Edward P. Marcucci of Carmel Valley. Supervisor Thomson J. Hudson is the county supervisor from this district.)

Support for the refinery is coming from predominately agricultural communities in the Salinas Valley. They look with favor on the additional tax revenue the re-

That budding teen-agers can look like civilized human beings, caring about good grooming, posture and taste in clothes, has been demonstrated by a non-curricular class of sixth-graders at Sunset School. The program, instigated by Miss Jo Brazell, has been carried on during lunch hour. On Saturday, it culminated with a "fashion show" for the girls' mothers in the Sunset auditorium.

Fashion was not the sole aim of the young ladies—good manners, poise and congenial personality were striven for. Through their interest in the project, Mrs. Jean Olivier and Mrs. Gladys McCloud donated two prizes to be awarded on the judgment of the girls themselves. One, for the girl whom the others felt had most improved in all ways during the semester, was given to Lorraine Hayes, left. The second, for the girl voted "tops" in all respects, was awarded to Cathy Spindler, right, making her, in effect, "Miss Sunset," a girl the school could be proud of at all times. Sunset principal Orville Rogers presented the prizes.

The Pine Cone urges members of this community to join the fight being led by the men and organizations mentioned above. There are only 54 days in which to do so.

OFFICERS TO BE INSTALLED

Mrs. Joseph Earnshaw, parliamentarian, will serve as the installing officer for the newly elected officers of the Junipero Serra Mothers' Club next Thursday at the annual installation luncheon to be held at the Spindrift restaurant in Monterey at 12:30.

The luncheon will be the last social gathering of the year for the Mothers' Club members and guests. Ladies whose children will be entering Junipero Serra School in September are welcome to attend. Mrs. John Mahoney Jr., chairman of the event, announces that baby-sitting service will be available at the school cafeteria for pre-schoolers over two.

Reservations may be made by phoning Mrs. Mahoney at 372-2685 or Mrs. James Lang at 624-1419, before this Saturday.

Other preliminary requests in the cultural center budget were $1,500 for general maintenance of the structure; $2,000 for janitorial and other supplies required to operate it; $150 for the rental of maintenance equipment such as floor waxers and sanders; unsegregated expenses, $100.

The total figures presented amounted to $55,981.71 and did not include the expenses of moving the city hall, municipal administrative offices and building inspector's office to the Sunset site and landscaping costs. An architect's fee of $900 for remodelling plans for such a move was previously approved by the council, also an annual salary of $600 for the Sunset Commission secretary. This brings so far projected cultural and community center costs for 1965-66 to $57,481.71.

Ballroom Dancing Instruction Offered

Larry Pellegrini, professional dance instructor, will offer a ballroom dance group class on Friday evenings from 8 to 10 p.m., starting tomorrow, at the Carmel American Legion Hall. Open to couples and single persons, the group instruction is the first such to be made available in Carmel, except to children, in many years. Practice in conventional and basic dance steps will be alternated with Latin American and current favorites.

Mr. Pellegrini, who maintains studios in other locations, emphasizes that no contracts are suggested or desired for his classes or for private instruction. To register for the Friday evening group or to obtain further information, one may phone 624-6023 during the daytime.

Lorilott Clark Is Winner Of Holiday Yachting Regatta

The name of Lorilott Clark of Carmel will be placed on both the Stuart Haldorn perpetual cup and the Commodores' perpetual cup as a result of the Haldorn-Commodores Regatta of the Stillwater Yacht Club last weekend. Doug Baird, who skippered Mrs. Clark's Mercury, took home a silver tray to add to his collection of trophies.

Also awarded trophies by Commodore Thomas K. Perry were Dick Thompson of Sausalito, second; Van Yates, third; George Yates, fourth; and Evan Wythe, fifth.

Skippers who qualified during the series to represent SYC at the national Mercury races to be held at Ventura in August are Van Yates, George Yates, Lorilott Clark, Mark Raggett, Tom Perry and Larry Washburn, tied, and Evan Wythe, alternate.

A Few Tickets Left For Symphony Gala

At the discotheque, a gigantic gilt bird cage, designed by architect Walter Burde, will be the center of interest. During the evening Vickie Fischer and Sherman Smith will be inside to demonstrate the "Sandpiper" dance created especially for the occasion by Dale Lefler.

Admission to the three-part benefit is by patron and sponsor donations to the symphony sustaining fund at $25 and $50 each. A few last minute seats are still available according to reservations chairman, Mrs. Howard S. Bucquet. For further information call her at 624-6141 or Symphony Headquarters, 624-4125.
